Speaking Engagements & Seminars

09.19.2013

Location: Atlantic City, NJ

Archer attorneys Anthony R. La Ratta and Donald P. Craig will present "Developing Trends in Probate Litigation" on Sept. 19, 2013, at the Constitutional Officers Associations of New Jersey's 37th Annual Conference at Harrah's Marina in Atlantic City.

COANJ represents Sheriffs, County Clerks, Surrogates and Registers of Deeds and Mortgages, who are elected directly by the citizens of New Jersey to serve in each county of the state. The seminar provides continuing legal education credits for attendees.

Mr. La Ratta practices commercial litigation with an emphasis on probate matters, estates, trusts, guardianships and fiduciaries. Mr. Craig concentrates his practice in the area of estate litigation, including will contests, disputes between fiduciaries and beneficiaries, guardianship matters and accountings.

More information is available on the COANJ website.
