Dylan Newton is an Associate in Archer's Business Litigation Practice Group. Dylan works on a variety of matters, including contract disputes, breach of employment agreements and restrictive covenants, breach of commercial tenancy agreements, employee and shareholder disputes, and consumer fraud claims.

Dylan earned his J.D. from Rutgers Law School-Newark, where he served as a member of the Journal of Law and Public Policy, and the Rutgers Civil Justice Clinic, where he represented clients seeking Social Security disability benefits in federal court and obtained successful outcomes at the district court and Third Circuit levels. During law school, Dylan was awarded the Justice Henry Ackerson, Jr. prize for greatest distinction in legal skills and received the Eric Neisser Award for outstanding pro bono services.

While at Rutgers Law School, Dylan served as a legal intern for the Honorable Justice Anne M. Patterson, New Jersey Supreme Court in Morristown, NJ. While obtaining his Bachelor Degree in Arts & Sciences from Rutgers University, Dylan held several internships, including at the Association of Environmental Authorities, NJ Attorney General's Office, and the Morris County Prosecutor's Office.
