Archer is pleased to announce that partner Maureen Coghlan has been appointed to the Board of Directors of BookSmiles, a nonprofit organization committed to promoting literacy and educational equity in communities facing socio-economic challenges.

Maureen has achieved professional excellence in the legal community while she wears several hats at Archer. A complex civil litigation attorney, Maureen plays an integral role in Archer's Business Litigation Group, Environmental Litigation Group, and also serves as co-chair of the firm's NJ Local Court Practice. She is a member of the Association of the Federal Bar of New Jersey, New Jersey State Bar Association, and the Camden County Bar Association. Always generous in spirit and community-oriented, Maureen brings to BookSmiles her dedication and commitment to the organization's mission.

Since its inception in 2017, BookSmiles has been devoted to fostering a love for reading among underserved children. The organization has worked tirelessly providing quality upcycled books for children who may not otherwise have the means to build their home libraries. In June 2024, BookSmiles announced it has surpassed 2 million children's books distributed to hundreds of thousands of needy children throughout Philadelphia and New Jersey. This significant milestone makes them one of the largest book banks in the country. The organization's innovative and community-driven approach has garnered widespread support and enabled the distribution of an impressive number of books to schools, community centers, and organizations serving disadvantaged youth.
