Partner Debra S. Rosen has been named a "2024 Policy Maker" by the Executive Women of New Jersey ("EWNJ"). EWNJ is a leading executive women's organization committed to increasing the presence of women on boards and in top leadership positions within New Jersey companies. The EWNJ is honoring those contributions of high-achieving New Jersey women leaders from the private and public sectors. These influential leaders will be honored at the annual EWNJ Salute to the Policy Makers Gala on October 22, 2024.

Debra concentrates her practice in the area of complex environmental and toxic tort litigation and environmental due diligence and compliance, with an emphasis upon the defense of groundwater contamination cases involving claims for both property damage and serious personal injury.

A member of Archer's Board of Directors, Debra has had a distinguished over 30-year career at Archer and has played an integral role providing critical support for many of the firm's initiatives. Debra broke a glass ceiling within the firm when in 1994 she was made the first woman shareholder. Debra has broken ground at Archer in other ways as well. She was the first woman chairperson of the firm's Hiring Committee. It's Debra's significant role as the founder of Archer's Women Lawyer's Network over ten years ago that has done a great deal to help put the firm's diversity initiative in place. The goal of this network is to provide mentoring, networking opportunities, practice development, and professional development to the firm's women attorneys.

Within the community, Debra serves on the Board of Directors of the Alice Paul Institute. She is also Past President and a Board member of the Garden State Council, Boy Scouts of America, and a former Board member of the Philadelphia Diversity Law Group.
