

You Get What You Tax For: How Tax Policy Fuels the Housing Crisis and How to Fix It

Speaking Engagements & Seminars

06.13.2025

Jeffrey Gradone will be presenting the program "You Get What You Tax For: How Tax Policy Fuels the Housing Crisis and How to Fix It" at the 2025 New Jersey Planning and Redevelopment Conference. During this session, panelists will discuss how property taxes and other tax incentives and penalties work against municipalities and planners who are concentrating on zoning to encourage creation of housing. The three day conference features timely, thought-provoking sessions that will ignite new ideas and strategies for tackling the challenges of land use, sustainable growth, and community resilience.
