

Matthew Conley Co-Authors Chapter in New Jersey Environmental Law Handbook

Press Releases

10.20.2025

Archer partner Matthew Conley served as a co-author of the Natural Resource Damages chapter in the recently released 10th edition of the New Jersey Environmental Law Handbook, a leading reference published as part of the State Environmental Law Handbooks series.

Thoroughly revised for 2025, the 10th edition offers a comprehensive, up-to-date guide to New Jersey's environmental laws, regulations, and policies. Featuring contributions from respected attorneys, consultants, and other experts, the handbook provides an in-depth overview of the state's environmental law framework, with chapters addressing topics such as water quality, contaminated property, redevelopment, air quality, and wildlife protection.

As a co-author of the chapter on Natural Resource Damages, Matt draws on his extensive experience representing Fortune 100 and multinational companies in complex environmental and products liability litigation. His practice focuses on environmental contamination matters, including cost recovery, contribution, and property diminution claims, as well as cases involving "emerging contaminants" such as 1,4-dioxane and per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS).

For more information or to order the New Jersey Environmental Law Handbook, 10th Edition, click here.

About Archer

For over 95 years, Archer & Greiner has been providing full-service litigation and transactional legal services to clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations and small and middle-market companies, to closely-held and family-owned businesses. Our 175 attorneys span nine offices serving clients' interests across a wide range of industries. As a full-service firm, we draw on the strength of all our practices and multidisciplinary teams. This collaboration ensures that our clients receive complete, coordinated, and comprehensive counsel in every area of the law that impacts their business.

Related People

Matthew Conley

Partner

✉ mconley@archerlaw.com

☎ 856.673.3901

© 2025 Archer & Greiner, P.C. All rights reserved.

