

Patrick Afriyie Named a “Most Promising Newcomer” Finalist in 2026 Pennsylvania Legal Awards

Press Releases

04.14.2026

The Pennsylvania Legal Intelligencer has named Associate Patrick K.A. Afriyie a finalist in the Most Promising Newcomer category of the 2026 Pennsylvania Legal Awards. This accolade honors attorneys in their early years of practice who have demonstrated exceptional potential, work ethic, and legal acumen.

Winners in all finalist categories will be announced at an awards dinner hosted by Law.com on June 11 at the Hilton at Penn’s Landing in Philadelphia.

Patrick is a member of Archer’s Business Litigation Practice Group, where he advises clients on a broad range of complex commercial matters, including corporate governance, shareholder rights, employment disputes, trade secret protection, unfair competition, business torts, and consumer fraud.

In addition, Patrick has helped expand the firm’s Sports and Entertainment practice. Drawing on his experience as a former collegiate and professional football player, he has become a trusted advisor and emerging thought leader on name, image, and likeness (NIL) issues. His insights in this rapidly evolving area have benefited clients and helped position the firm at the forefront of industry developments.

Patrick is also actively engaged in pro bono service and other community-focused initiatives. He has provided legal representation to individuals who might not otherwise have access to counsel, helping ensure broader access to justice.

Across his practice, Patrick has distinguished himself through initiative, dedication, and a commitment to both client service and community engagement.
