

Archer Welcomes Jacqueline Alcantara to Corporate and IP Practices in New York

Press Releases

05.04.2026

Archer is pleased to announce that Jacqueline M. Alcantara has joined the firm as an Associate in its Corporate and Intellectual Property Practice Groups in the New York office, further strengthening the firm's expanding capabilities in the region.

Jacque brings a distinctive combination of intellectual property and litigation experience, allowing her to advise clients on a broad range of corporate and IP-related matters. She has developed a strong foundation in intellectual property law through her work in trademark and copyright litigation, including proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, as well as through her involvement in global brand protection and enforcement strategies.

Jacque's practice spans a broad range of industries, including luxury goods, consumer products, and entertainment. Jacque has significant experience managing complex intellectual property disputes and counseling clients on trademark, copyright, and domain name enforcement. She has also led brand protection efforts, supervised enforcement teams, negotiated trademark infringement settlements, and worked with law enforcement to address counterfeit goods.

Prior to joining Archer, Jacque served as an associate at a New York law firm, where she focused on civil litigation matters.

About Archer

For over 95 years, Archer & Greiner has been providing full-service litigation and transactional legal services to clients ranging from Fortune 100 corporations and small and middle-market companies, to closely-held and family-owned businesses. Our 175 attorneys span nine offices serving clients' interests across a wide range of industries. As a full-service firm, we draw on the strength of all our practices and multidisciplinary teams. This collaboration ensures that our clients receive complete, coordinated and comprehensive counsel in every area of the law that impacts their business.

