

Archer Welcomes Michael McCutcheon to Business Litigation Practice Group

Press Releases

08.20.2026

Archer is pleased to announce that Michael W. McCutcheon has joined the firm as an associate in its Business Litigation Practice Group in the Voorhees office.

Michael focuses his practice on corporate and commercial litigation, representing clients in a variety of business disputes, including matters involving corporate governance, breach of fiduciary duty, shareholder rights, business torts, and other complex issues affecting companies and their stakeholders.

He has substantial experience prosecuting complex litigation, including class and representative actions involving some of the world's largest public corporations, and has helped achieve significant recoveries for clients.

Prior to joining Archer, Michael was an associate at a Pennsylvania law firm, where he concentrated his practice on corporate governance disputes, breaches of fiduciary duty, and mergers and acquisitions litigation.

Michael earned his law degree, cum laude, from Rutgers Law School. During law school, he also served as a judicial intern for the Honorable Donald J. Stein, General Civil Division, Superior Court of New Jersey.
