

Introduction to Environmental Law

Speaking Engagements & Seminars

10.07.2026

Presented by: Daniel R. Farino

Archer partner Daniel Farino will join a distinguished panel of environmental attorneys for a comprehensive program examining the foundations of environmental law and its application in an evolving legal and regulatory landscape. Attorneys from every practice area are encouraged to attend to discover how environmental law impacts their clients and matters. This program will examine climate change, the scarcity of land resources, and the unmet need for environmental justice. Attendees will leave with essential knowledge of the principles of environmental law and where the industry is headed.
