

Resolving More Than Disputes

In the News

09.30.2026

Archer partner Steve Mignogna is featured in a recent issue of SJ Magazine, highlighting his decades-long career in estate and trust litigation, his deep roots in South Jersey and his work as a mediator.

The article explores Steve's approach to resolving complex family disputes, where legal issues are often intertwined with years of family history and emotion. Drawing on his experience as a litigator, Steve discusses the value of addressing conflicts early and helping parties find a path toward resolution before disputes become more entrenched.

The profile also looks at the evolution of Archer's estate and trust practice and Steve's journey from representing clients in litigation to developing a significant mediation practice.

Read the full article here.

Related People

Steven K. Mignogna

Partner

✉ smignogna@archerlaw.com

☎ 856.354.3024

Related Services

- Estate & Trust Litigation