

Thomas Muccifori to Moderate Burlington County Bar Association Seminar

Press Releases

01.05.2007

Thomas A. Muccifori, Esquire, a shareholder with the law firm of Archer, P.C., will moderate the Burlington County Bar Association's seminar "The Do's and Don'ts of Drafting and Litigating Non-Compete Agreements in Chancery Court" on Thursday, January 18, 2007 in Mount Holly, New Jersey.

This program will feature an inside view from the Presiding Chancery Judge in Burlington County who will discuss his particular chancery practices and procedures with respect to drafting and litigating non-compete, non-disclosure and non-solicitation Agreements by way of Orders to Show Cause and Emergent Applications such as TRO's, Preliminary Injunctions, plus other tips for demystifying practice in the Chancery Division.

Mr. Muccifori concentrates his practice on commercial litigation, including a variety of labor and employment issues in both the public and private sector. He has gained nationwide experience in drafting, negotiating and counseling employers, employees and others in the trade secret and restrictive covenant context. He has successfully litigated and defended a number of such cases in State and Federal Court on behalf of employees and employers seeking injunctive and monetary relief in a wide variety of contexts, including sales, technical employees, and key senior management.

He is the founder and Co-Chair of Archer's Employment Competition and Information Protection Group, as well as the founder and Chair of the firm's Commercial Collections and Consumer Litigation Practice Group, which represents both creditors and debtors in all facets of commercial litigation.
