Feb. 21, 2008

New Jersey's statewide organization of tax assessment professionals has scheduled a daylong seminar to help assessors, appraisers, attorneys and others cope with increasing commercial and industrial tax appeal filings in today's volatile real estate market.

The seminar, Tax Appeals 2008, is presented by the New Jersey chapter of the International Association of Assessing Officers (IAAO) and is designed for anyone interested in the latest developments in the property tax assessment appeal process.

The seminar features presentations from appraisers, assessors, county tax commissioners and attorneys, including Jeffrey D. Gordon, a Partner at the law firm of Archer, P.C. Gordon is Chair of the firm's Real Estate Tax Appeal Group. His practice involves the handling of complex commercial and industrial tax appeals in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York and other East Coast states. He is a frequent lecturer and author on real estate tax matters.

The session is scheduled for March 13, 2008, from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Forsgate Country Club, in Monroe Township, N.J. For further information and to register, visit www.amanj.org. The seminar provides six continuing education credit-hours toward CTA (Certified Tax Assessor) certification.

Archer, P.C., is a full-service law firm with more than 150 lawyers in six offices serving Fortune 100 clients, small to medium-sized businesses and individuals for more than 75 years.
