ALIANZA, the Latino Law Students Association at the Rutgers University School of Law at Camden, will honor attorney Carlos M. Bollar at the association's 7th Annual Campeones de la Justicia (Champions of Justice) Banquet on Wednesday, Feb. 18, 2009.

A Partner at Archer, P.C., in Haddonfield, Bollar is being honored along with Camille Andrews, Dean of Admissions at Rutgers-Camden Law School. The event is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Camden County Boathouse, 7050 North Park Drive, Pennsauken. ALIANZA holds the annual banquet to recognize members of the legal community who dedicate their lives to development of the Latino community.

General admission is $55 and includes hors d'oeuvres, buffet dinner, dessert, coffee, tea, soft drinks, beer and wine, as well as entertainment by a live band. Special prices are $40 for Rutgers-Camden faculty and staff and $25 for students. For more information and to register, contact ALIANZA President Suehail M. Perez at suehailp@gmail.com.

Bollar received his law degree from Rutgers-Camden Law School in 1997. He earned his bachelor's degree from Rutgers College in New Brunswick in 1994. Bollar has extensive experience in environmental litigation, including complex matters in state and federal courts in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and other states.

A Mount Laurel resident, Bollar is a member of the Diversity Committee at Archer as well as a member of the Board of Directors of the Philadelphia Diversity Law Group, which promotes diversity in the practice of law, particularly in the greater Philadelphia area. He has been a featured speaker on a variety of topics including diversity in the legal profession.
