March 5, 2009

Attorney Carlton L. Johnson has been selected to serve as Co-Chair of the City Policy Committee of the Philadelphia Bar Association.

Johnson, a Partner in the Philadelphia office of Archer, P.C., was appointed by Philadelphia Bar Association Chancellor Sayde J. Ladov. The City Policy Committee serves as an informal liaison between the Philadelphia city government in all of its forms - mayoral administration, City Council and city agencies - and the members of the Philadelphia Bar Association as represented by its Board of Governors.

The committee's work includes informing the members with regard to changes in significant city practices and procedures as well as serving as a "sounding board" for proposals for city policy action that affect the Philadelphia Bar Association and its members. The committee also represents the bar association in city policy dialogues in order to promote the best interest of the association and its members. In addition, when directed by the Board of Governors and after due notice to members, the Committee will make public statements on relevant subjects.

Johnson serves as Co-Chair of Archer's Civil Rights and Government Relations practice groups. A city resident and former head of the Civil Rights Unit of the City of Philadelphia Law Department, Johnson concentrates his practice in civil rights law, government relations and employment law.
