Sept. 10, 2009

Attorney William P. Isele has been selected to serve on the Board of Trustees of the Princeton Senior Resource Center, a nonprofit agency that provides programs and services to promote healthy aging for older adults in the Princeton, N.J., area.

Isele, Of Counsel in the Princeton office of Archer, P.C., concentrates his practice on elder, disability and health care law. He provides counsel and representation to a wide range of health care entities, from individual practitioners to hospitals, long-term care facilities and hospice providers, as well as to individuals and families faced with the challenge of planning for long-term care and competent, compassionate end-of-life care. The State of New Jersey's former Ombudsman for the Institutionalized Elderly, Isele is an active and vigorous advocate for the rights of residents of nursing homes, assisted living facilities and other long-term care enterprises.

For more than 35 years, the Princeton Senior Resource Center has provided programs to men and women 55 and older, including social and recreational activities, health and fitness classes, educational programs and volunteer activities. The Center also provides services including individual and family counseling and consultations, case management, assistance with life transitions, support groups, information and referral to community services, advocacy, and linkage to in-home support for older adults and caregivers.

Archer, P.C., is a full-service law firm with more than 175 lawyers serving Fortune 100 clients, small to medium-sized businesses and individuals for more than 80 years. The firm has offices in Haddonfield, Princeton and Flemington, N.J., as well as in Philadelphia, Pa., New York City and Wilmington and Georgetown, Del. For more information, visit www.archerlaw.com.
