Stephen Packman on Faculty of Cherry Hill Business Law Seminar

Press Releases

01.21.2010

Stephen M. Packman, Chair of the Bankruptcy Law Practice Group at Archer, P.C., in Haddonfield, N.J., will be one of the featured presenters at a seminar entitled Negotiating Real Estate Loan Terms and Workout Options on Feb. 9, 2010, in Cherry Hill, N.J.

The event runs from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn Cherry Hill, 2175 Marlton Pike (Route 70 at Sayer Avenue). Presented by the National Business Institute (NBI), the session is intended for professionals, including attorneys, accountants and financial advisors, in-house counsel, CEOs, CFOs, lenders, and those in the real estate industry. Topics covered will include documenting and negotiating terms and agreements for real estate and other loans, as well as strategies and options for loan workouts before, during and after default.

Packman is nationally certified as a Business Bankruptcy Specialist by the American Board of Certification. He is a Fellow of INSOL International, a worldwide federation of insolvency professionals, and a graduate of its intensive course of study in global insolvency practice. Packman has extensive experience representing a broad range of clients in insolvency matters, restructurings and litigation, including commercial bankruptcy proceedings, workouts, foreclosure proceedings, collection actions and PACA (Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act) disputes and litigation.
