10.06.2010

Trevor J. Cooney, Douglas Diaz and Stephanie J. Zane have been named Partners of the law firm of Archer, P.C., firm President Christopher R. Gibson and Chairman James H. Carll announced today.

The three new Partners are based in Archer's Haddonfield, N.J., office, and represent a diverse base of clients in a variety of practice areas. They were formerly Associates at the firm.

TREVOR J. COONEY is a member of the firm's Litigation Services Department, where he focuses on commercial and complex litigation involving consumer fraud claims, insurance coverage disputes, construction defect claims, intellectual property and the Uniform Commercial Code. He has extensive experience in the state and federal courts in both New Jersey and Pennsylvania. A significant portion of Mr. Cooney's litigation practice is devoted to counseling and representing policyholders in complex, multi-party coverage actions involving numerous types of insurance policies. Mr. Cooney is a frequent speaker for the National Business Institute and has authored numerous articles on insurance topics. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the South Jersey Young Professionals Association, an organization that undertakes charitable, professional and social endeavors for the betterment of South Jersey. He lives in Cherry Hill.

DOUGLAS DIAZ is a member of Archer's Labor & Employment Department. He concentrates his practice in labor and employment law litigation, representing employers in areas such as discrimination, wrongful discharge, restrictive covenants and wage-and-hour issues. He regularly defends employment-related claims before state and federal courts as well as administrative agencies such as the New Jersey Division on Civil Rights, the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission and the U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission. Mr. Diaz also counsels clients regarding laws such as the Family and Medical Leave Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Fair Labor Standards Act and the National Labor Relations Act. He advises employers on issues such as employment agreements, employee handbooks, confidentiality agreements, employee discipline and harassment investigations. Mr. Diaz also defends employers against unfair labor practice charges, represents them during collective bargaining negotiations and labor arbitrations, and provides counsel on picketing, strike activity and union organizational campaigns. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Hispanic Family Center of Southern New Jersey, a nonprofit provider of social services. He lives in Cherry Hill.

STEPHANIE J. ZANE is a member of Archer's Family & Matrimonial Services Department, where she concentrates her practice on all aspects of divorce, custody, child support and related issues, as well as domestic violence litigation, in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Ms. Zane has extensive experience in complex matrimonial litigation and regularly appears in the Family Divisions of New Jersey Superior Court in Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties. A trained mediator, she is also a member of the New Jersey Supreme Court's Committee on Character, which examines the personal records and reputations of candidates for admission to the New Jersey bar. In addition, Ms. Zane is a Barrister member of the Thomas S. Forkin Family Law American Inns of Court, whose mission is to foster excellence in professionalism, ethics and legal skills for judges, lawyers and law students. She lives in Cherry Hill.
