

Three New Associates Join Archer

Press Releases

10.17.2011

Three new attorneys have joined the law firm of Archer P.C. as Associates, firm President Christopher R. Gibson and Chairman James H. Carll announced.

The three recent additions – Kristopher J. Berr, Erin R. Carroll and Melissa B. Osorio – are based in the Haddonfield, N.J., office of Archer, one of the region's largest full-service law firms.

Kristopher Berr was a summer associate with Archer in 2010. He will practice in Archer's Commercial Litigation Group. Mr. Berr received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Princeton University in 2007, where he also served as a captain of the school's NCAA Division 1 wrestling team. He graduated magna cum laude from Rutgers School of Law-Camden earlier this year. While at Rutgers, Mr. Berr served as a notes/comments editor for the Rutgers Law Journal, interned for the Honorable Judge Freda Wolfson in U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey, and completed an externship for the Honorable Judge Dolores Sloviter in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit. Born and raised in Collingswood, N.J., Mr. Berr currently resides in Philadelphia.

Erin Carroll joins Archer's Commercial Litigation Group following a clerkship with the Honorable Judge Edwin H. Stern and the Honorable Justice Virginia A. Long of the Supreme Court of New Jersey. Ms. Carroll received her law degree from Rutgers School of Law-Camden, summa cum laude; her Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, from the University of Scranton; her Master of Arts in English and American Literature and a Doctor of Philosophy degree in American Literature from the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, Fordham University. While in law school, she completed an externship for the Honorable Judge Joseph H. Rodriguez in U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey. Erin currently reside in Mays Landing, NJ, with her husband.

Melissa Osorio joins Archer's Estate and Trust Litigation Group. She served a clerkship with the Honorable Judge Richard F. Wells of the Superior Court of New Jersey and also served as a legal intern to Judge Rodriguez in U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey in 2009. She received her law degree from Rutgers School of Law-Camden, and a Bachelor of Arts degree, cum laude, from Bryn Mawr College. While in law school, she was President of the Association for Public Interest Law (APIL), worked in the Domestic Violence Clinic, and was articles editor for the Rutgers Journal of Law & Public Policy. At graduation, she received a Pro Bono Award for Significant Public Service, the Mary Philbrook Student Public Interest Award and the National Association of Women Lawyers Award. Ms. Osorio is a member of the American Bar Association, the New Jersey State Bar Association and the Pennsylvania Bar Association. She was born in Los Angeles, CA and grew up in Cherry Hill, NJ.
