

Jeffrey M. Kolansky Elected Vice President of the Philadelphia Police Foundation

News & Press

05.30.2012

Attorney Jeffrey M. Kolansky has been elected Vice President of the Philadelphia  Police Foundation, a nonprofit organization that supports the Philadelphia Police Department.

Mr. Kolansky, Managing Partner of the Philadelphia office of Archer P.C., succeeds Maureen Rush, Vice President for Public Safety at the University of Pennsylvania, who has been elected President of the Foundation.

The Philadelphia Police Foundation is dedicated to supporting the men and women of the Philadelphia Police Department by funding projects that are beyond the scope of the City budget. The Foundation engages business, professional and civic communities in advancing the mission of the Philadelphia Police Department through collaborative initiatives, in-kind resources, training and funding for the Department.

For instance, the Foundation is in the midst of a fundraising campaign to help re-establish the Philadelphia Mounted Police Unit, and has provided funding for such items as Segway two-wheeled personal transportation devices for officers, crime mapping, bomb-squad equipment, officer training and body armor.

For more information and to donate, please visit the Foundation website at www.phillypolicefoundation.org.

Mr. Kolansky, a well-known litigator and veteran police attorney, brings a long history of law enforcement representation and Philadelphia civic involvement to the Foundation. His expertise has earned him a national reputation in such areas as police representation, civil right defense, labor and employment law and other areas of litigation, as well as client counseling.
