

Hackensack Office Attorneys Offer CPE Courses for Accountants

Press Releases

07.05.2012

Experienced tax attorneys in the Hackensack, N.J., office of Archer P.C. offer continuing professional education (CPE) programs to Certified Public Accountants (CPAs) through seminars approved by the New Jersey State Board of Accountancy for credit toward mandatory CPE requirements.

Archer attorneys have provided these in-depth seminars for accountants at major regional banks, encompassing the most up-to-date information on developments in the law that affect tax procedures for 2012 and beyond.

These highly experienced and credentialed attorneys include:

Andrew J. Cevasco – Mr. Cevasco has handled a broad array of tax-related matters for business and individual clients over his 30-year career, ranging from transactional matters to a variety of trial court matters in both the Law and Chancery Divisions of the New Jersey Superior Court. He regularly prepares estate plans for clients with estates ranging from modest to large, providing planning provisions for tax avoidance and trust provisions for their children. He has provided legal counsel for the administration of hundreds of estates. He has presented CPE courses for a variety of organizations, including the National Business Institute (NBI) and the Bergen County Bar Association.

Richard Jon Contant – With more than 40 years' experience in estate planning, business organization and transactional law, Mr. Contant handles tax-related matters for a variety of individual and corporate clients. He is the author, with Brian T. Keane, of Planning for Children, as part of the New Jersey Institute for Continuing Legal Education's Sophisticated Estate Planning, and has lectured widely on tax law to professional organizations. A member of the Bergen County Estate Planning Council, he is admitted to practice before the U.S. Tax Court and the U.S. Supreme Court, in addition to the state and federal courts in New Jersey and New York.

Eimi S. Figlio – Ms. Figlio concentrates her practice in estate planning and estate administration, including drafting estate planning documents such as Wills, Trusts, Powers of Attorneys and Advanced Medical Directives necessary to preserve family wealth and minimize tax consequences. She also assists clients with gifting and transfers of family assets and closely held businesses. In addition, Ms. Figlio handles probate matters, preparation of federal and state estate tax returns, preparation of accountings and post-mortem planning opportunities.
