

For Small Business Owners Affected by Hurricane Sandy: Conference Call with Government Agencies on Thursday, 11.8.2012

Press Releases

11.07.2012

Governor Chris Christie has announced that small business owners will have the opportunity to join Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), New Jersey Economic Development Authority and New Jersey Business Action Center senior officials for a conference call on the federal and state government's efforts to help small businesses recover from Hurricane Sandy. Officials will provide updates and answer questions about assistance and support to states affected by the aftermath of Hurricane Sandy, ensuring the federal family and its public and private partners continue to provide all available resources to support state, local, territorial and tribal communities in affected areas.

This listen-only conference call will be specifically geared to small businesses, according to the Governor's Office.

WHAT: New Jersey Economic Development Authority, FEMA, SBA and New Jersey Business Action Center senior officials update call with local, small business owners and officials on Sandy relief efforts.

WHEN: Thursday, November 8 at 2 p.m. ET

DIAL IN: Dial-in: 1-888-621-9649; Event number: 411483

Additional storm-related information for small businesses is available from the U.S. Small Business Administration by clicking here.

Related Services

- Business Litigation
- Environmental Law

© 2025 Archer & Greiner, P.C. All rights reserved.

