

NJBIZ Honors Terence J. Fox for Work with Ronald McDonald House

Press Releases

04.03.2013

Terence J. Fox, Esquire, of Archer P.C., has been named a finalist in the 2013 NJBIZ General Counsel of the Year Awards program.

The General Counsel of the Year Awards program honors New Jersey's standout General Counsels, Chief Legal Officers and corporate compliance professionals for the critical role they play in making their companies successful. Finalists were selected in six categories: Public Company with revenues up to $1 Billion, Public Company with revenues over $1 Billion, Corporate Compliance Professional, Private Company with revenues up to $1 Billion, Private Company with revenues over $1 Billion, and Non-profit or Government Organization. Mr. Fox is a finalist in the Non-profit or Government Organization category for his work with the Ronald McDonald House of Southern New Jersey, which provides facilities and services for families whose children are being treated at area hospitals for critical illness or traumatic injuries.

Finalists and winners were chosen by an independent panel of judges. Honorees were selected using a scoring system based on: career successes, legal victories and achievements, professional services provided and community service.

The General Counsel of the Year Awards finalists will be recognized and the winners in each category will be announced during a breakfast awards ceremony on Thursday, June 6, 2013 at the Palace at Somerset Park in Somerset, NJ.

Mr. Fox concentrates his practice in the area of corporate and commercial banking law, with an emphasis on mergers and acquisitions and commercial lending transactions as well as general corporate matters.
