

Natalie D'Amora, David Edelstein and David Schneider Promoted to Partner

Press Releases

10.04.2013

Archer P.C. announced that Natalie D'Amora, David F. Edelstein and David A. Schneider have been promoted to Partner at the regional law firm.

The three were formerly Associates at the firm, which has nine offices in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New York. Ms. D'Amora, Mr. Edelstein and Mr. Schneider represent a diverse base of clients in a variety of practice areas.

"These fine, young attorneys have earned their career ascendance through hard work, exceptional ability and dedicated client service," said James H. Carll, Chairman of Archer. "We congratulate them and wish them well as they embark on the next phase of their promising careers."

NATALIE D'AMORA is based in Archer's Philadelphia office and is a member of the firm's Commercial Litigation Group, where she focuses her practice on construction litigation. She gained her strong background in construction law through representation of municipalities, development agencies, general contractors, subcontractors and sureties on major projects throughout Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In addition, Ms. D'Amora handles a wide range of complex commercial litigation matters including corporate governance disputes, environmental litigation, intellectual property litigation, bankruptcy and insurance matters.

Ms. D'Amora is a founding member of the Philadelphia Mother Attorney Mentoring Association. She has served on the Board of Directors for the Homeless Advocacy Project, and is a Fellow of the American Bar Association Forum on the Construction Industry.

DAVID F. EDELSTEIN is based in Archer's Haddonfield, N.J., headquarters and is a member of the firm's Commercial Litigation and Environmental Law Groups. He concentrates on complex environmental litigation in state and federal courts, and has significant experience prosecuting and defending cases involving cost recovery and contribution claims brought pursuant to the federal Superfund Law (CERCLA) and state environmental laws. Mr. Edelstein has also handled numerous cases involving claims for natural resource damages and has extensive experience negotiating with Trustees, governmental entities and private parties.

He also represents clients in actions involving a wide variety of other substantive areas, including commercial contracts, products liability, insurance coverage and redevelopment law.

Mr. Edelstein is a member of the American, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Camden County Bar Associations. He also serves the community through his involvement in the Bucks County Red Cross Leadership Council, as a Team Coordinator for the Camden County Mock Trial program, and as a coach in the Yardley-Morrisville Soccer Program.

DAVID A. SCHNEIDER is based in Archer's Princeton, N.J., office, where he is a member of the firm's Real Estate Tax Appeal Group. In addition to being admitted to practice law, Mr. Schneider is a licensed Pennsylvania State Certified General Appraiser, the state's highest commercial appraiser designation.

Formerly in-house counsel at a real estate development company, Mr. Schneider has handled litigation involving billions of dollars in appraised property valuation, including complex commercial and industrial tax appeals in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other East Coast states. He also advises clients regarding potential real estate tax liability for property being considered for purchase and/or development. Mr. Schneider is experienced as lead counsel at trial, oral argument and hearings before various courts and quasi-judicial tribunals. He is an Associate Member of the Appraisal Institute, a member of the Taxation Section of New Jersey State Bar Association, and a member of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.
