Big Brothers Big Sisters of Burlington, Camden & Gloucester Counties recently presented a plaque to Archer P.C. in recognition of the firm's support as a Corporate Sponsor of the local organization. Archer attorney Lloyd Freeman, pictured above, has been active with the organization for a number of years as a volunteer and is also Chair of the organization's Board of Directors.

Dating back to 1904, Big Brothers Big Sisters (BBBS) mentors at-risk children and provides ongoing support for children, families, and volunteers to build and sustain long-lasting relationships. BBBS is proven by independent research to improve children's odds for succeeding in school, behaving nonviolently, avoiding drugs and alcohol, and breaking negative cycles. Headquartered in Philadelphia and with nearly 400 agencies across the country, Big Brothers Big Sisters serves a quarter of a million children. The mission of BBBS is to provide children facing adversity with strong and enduring, professionally supported, 1-to-1 relationships that change their lives for the better, forever.
