

United Way Recognizes Archer, John Connell

Press Releases

06.16.2014

The law firm of Archer P.C., along with John C. Connell, a firm Partner and shareholder, were recently honored by the United Way of Greater Philadelphia and Southern New Jersey (UWGPSNJ) in Camden County for their commitment to supporting the organization, which works to positively impact the region in the areas of education, income, and health.

On behalf of the firm, Archer President Christopher R. Gibson accepted the award for Largest Year-to-Year Increase in Employee Giving, presented at the UWGPSNJ in Camden County's 2013-14 Campaign Awards Celebration on May 20 at Caffè Aldo Lamberti in Cherry Hill. Archer has a long and proud history of supporting the United Way, both financially and through service. In fact, firm co-founder F. Morse Archer Jr. was an original United Way of Camden County Trustee when the organization formed in 1942. The law firm is a perennial leader in United Way fundraising among professional firms in the area.

Mr. Connell received the Stephen C. Ries Community Advocate Award, “presented annually to an individual who honors the legacy of Steve Ries, a longtime United Way volunteer and former Board member who died in 2013, “with a deep, ongoing commitment to community service and a dedication to improving the quality of life for individuals in our region.” Mr. Connell served as a member of UWGPSNJ in Camden County’s 2013-2014 Campaign Cabinet, where he was instrumental in securing critical meetings with Camden County business leaders to garner support for United Way. The recognition was the latest of numerous honors presented to Mr. Connell in acknowledgement of his dedication to various civic, professional and charitable organizations.
