

Archer's Jamie Slimm Elected to Alice Paul Institute Board of Directors

Press Releases

05.19.2016

Jamie A. Slimm, a Partner in Archer's Haddonfield office, has recently been elected to serve as a member of the Alice Paul Institute's Board of Directors. Ms. Slimm began serving her three-year term on the Board in February of this year and will continue to the end of March, 2019.

The Alice Paul Institute (API) is a not-for-profit 501(c)3 corporation based in Mount Laurel, New Jersey at Alice Paul's birthplace, Paulsdale. API was founded in 1984 as the Alice Paul Centennial Foundation to commemorate the centennial of Alice Paul's 1885 birth. The mission of the Alice Paul Institute is to honor the legacy of Alice Paul's work for gender equality through education, empowerment and leadership development.

Ms. Slimm specializes in the practice of Environmental Law with an emphasis on Petroleum Industry Practices. She represents clients in a wide variety of environmental matters from regulatory advice to complex litigation.

She has experience with toxic torts, products liability, property damage and personal injury claims. Ms. Slimm also routinely advises clients on regulatory matters both in the state and federal context.
