

Governor Christie Keeps NJ and PA Tax Agreement

Client Advisories

11.22.2016

Governor Christie announced this morning that the State of New Jersey will continue to honor the long-standing agreement between New Jersey and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which provides that the compensation of workers who reside in one state, but who work in the other, is subject to the income taxes of the state in which the worker resides. In short, there will be no change to the manner in which the compensation of these workers is taxed (despite threats to the contrary earlier this fall).
