

Jeffrey M. Gradone to Speak at Mercer County Bar Association Seminar

Speaking Engagements & Seminars

05.16.2014

Location: Hamilton, N.J.

Jeffrey M. Gradone, a Partner with Archer, P.C. in Princeton, N.J., will speak at the Mercer County Bar Association's continuing legal education seminar And On the Eighth Day There Was...Tax, on Friday, May 16, 2014 in Hamilton, N.J.

Mr. Gradone will participate in a panel discussion of tax implications involved in different areas of law. Specific topics include: family law, real estate, taxation of wrongful death benefits v. lost wages, business and succession planning and much more.

Mr. Gradone concentrates his practice in the areas of local property taxation and eminent domain proceedings. A former clerk for Judge Harold A. Kuskin of the New Jersey Tax Court, Mr. Gradone prosecutes complex property tax appeals in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, and other Mid-Atlantic and New England states. He advises clients regarding property tax issues and liabilities, and pursues property tax exemptions, abatements, and other incentives for real estate development projects. Mr. Gradone also handles a variety of complex condemnation matters on behalf of property owners and lenders.
