Pick up decades worth of experience and the hit ground running at this all-new program. Trial advocacy is an art. The more times you are in court, the more comfortable you become and the more you develop your personal style as a trial attorney.

This program has been carefully developed for civil trial attorneys who have been practicing for 10 years or less. Attendees will gain practical pointers from a panel of civil trial attorneys with expertise in medical malpractice, labor and employment and personal injury law, who remember looking down the barrel at their first trial.
