

The Camden County Bar Association and The Archer Discovery Strategies Group present “Recent Developments in E- Discovery and the Impact of Technology on Litigation”

Speaking Engagements & Seminars

12.01.2015

Location: Haddonfield, NJ

Changes in the ways in which technology affects daily life have inevitably impacted litigation practices and required changes in the way that the law reacts to developments in society. Over ten years of experience with e-discovery principles and practice have led to significant changes to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure which will become effective on December 1, 2015, and which will likely trickle down to state court rules over time. Each month, courts make new rulings that address novel issues that arise when the law meets new technologies and the new ways in which people make use of those technologies. With most cases now involving some sort of e-discovery and technology, attorneys need to know how to effectively handle the issues that can arise, including the ethical concerns they pose.

This seminar will include a presentation on the pending Federal rules changes that affect e-discovery, a survey of the more significant recent legal developments at the intersection of technology and litigation, and a discussion of their ethical implications.

Faculty

Kerri E. Chewning, Esq.

James M. Graziano, Esq.

Linda D. Perkins, Esq.

John McDermott, Esq.

Daniel R. Farino, Esq.
Douglas G. Leney, Esq.

Moderator/Faculty

Robert T. Egan, Esq.

Related People

Kerri E. Chewning

Partner

✉ kchewning@archerlaw.com

☎ 856.616.2685

Robert T. Egan

Of Counsel

✉ regan@archerlaw.com

☎ 856.354.3079

Daniel R. Farino

Partner

✉ dfarino@archerlaw.com

☎ 856.673.3906

© 2025 Archer & Greiner, P.C. All rights reserved.

