

Planning for Your Child's Education

Speaking Engagements & Seminars

03.03.2016

Location: Haddonfield, NJ

Do you have children for whom you have yet to consider paying for education? Are you thinking your children are young enough and there is plenty of time? Do you think it's too late? Will you qualify for financial aid, and if not, how are you going to pay for it? Do you have an obligation to pay for it? Are you a step-parent who thinks your income or assets are not part of the financial aid equation?

Do you have clients with children who are facing these issues? If you have these or other questions about planning for your child's education, this seminar is for you. Light food and refreshments will be provided. Our discussion will highlight:

- Expectations or Contribution to Education
- Financial Aid Options and Qualification
- Investment Vehicles to Save for Education
- Estate Planning Implications of Saving for Education
- Special Family Considerations including Divorce and Blended Families
- Recommendations and Techniques to Maximize the Plan for Your Child's Education
