Gianfranco A. Pietrafesa, a partner in the firm's Business Counseling Group and a past chairman of the Business Law Section of the New Jersey State Bar Association, will moderate the 11th Annual Ethics for Transactional Attorneys, a seminar that he organizes annually, on November 30 at the Wilshire Grand Hotel in West Orange.

This popular annual seminar brings together top New Jersey attorneys to provide you with a virtual roadmap to deal with legal ethics issues in many different "transactional" practice areas. This year's program will include presentations on corporate law, real estate law, trust and estate law as well as discussions of opinion letters and ethical issues surrounding the use of technology in transactional practice.
