About The Program:

Estate litigation is constantly evolving, and knowing the latest trends and developments can often mean the difference between winning or losing the cases you handle.

- How has estate litigation changed in the last 12 months?
- What are the key issues you need to know to remain successful in 2019...and beyond?
- What are the key strategies you need to know to avoid litigation and defeat challenging opponents?
- If you have to go to court what are the most effective approaches to take in your advocacy.

This annual seminar is the best way to stay up-to-date and learn the answers to these important questions. As an attendee, you'll hear a (completely updated for 2019) comprehensive review of the recent cases you need to know, and their significance to your estate planning and estate litigation practices. An authoritative panel, featuring two attorneys who specialize in estate litigation and a Presiding Chancery Judge, will share their perspectives and experience and will provide you with strategies you can apply to the cases you are handling. By the end, you'll walk away with all of the latest strategies and developments from the past year – as well as new and potentially disastrous pitfalls you should avoid. Make your plans to attend today!

Learn all the latest developments that you need to know in estate litigation, including:

- The Rise of Issues Surrounding Undue Influence in Will Contests:
Although the claimant generally bears the burden to prove undue influence, a presumption of undue influence arises where the claimant proves both a confidential relationship and, in the case of testamentary dispositions, other suspicious circumstances. Learn how to properly reinforce your independence at the outset.
  - Contested estates, and the latest strategies you need to be aware of.
  - Key cases – and strategies/developments arising from them – of 2018.
  - The future of estate planning in New Jersey.
  - Ethical considerations you need to be aware of while working on estate litigation.
  - The biggest pitfalls you need to be aware of.
- ... and more!
