

Health Staffing Shortages May Draw More Antitrust Scrutiny

Articles

06.08.2023

Archer Business Litigation Group Attorney's Michael Horn and Dylan Newton recently co-authored the Law60 article, "Health Staffing Shortages May Draw More Antitrust Scrutiny." They discuss widespread staffing shortages in the health care industry in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, and how the shortages may cause courts to begin cracking down on hospitals and hospital systems that have engaged in allegedly anti-competitive behavior.

To read the article, click here.

Related People

Michael S. Horn

Partner

✉ mhorn@archerlaw.com

☎ 201.498.8529

Dylan R. Newton

Associate

✉ dnewton@archerlaw.com

☎ 201.498.8518

Related Services

- Business Litigation
- Healthcare

Attachments

Law360 – Health Staffing Shortages May Draw More Antitrust Scrutiny

© 2024 Archer & Greiner, P.C. All rights reserved.

