

The Shifting Landscape of Antitrust Lawsuits in the Medical Field

Articles

06.20.2023

---

Archer Business Litigation Group Attorney's Michael Horn and Dylan Newton recently co-authored the Chief Healthcare Executive article, "The shifting landscape of antitrust lawsuits in the medical field." They continue to discuss widespread staffing shortages in the healthcare industry in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic, and how the shortages may come to affect Antitrust laws in the medical field as courts are expected to further scrutinize how a hospital's privileges determination could negatively impact the local healthcare landscape, patient care, and physician access.

To read the article, click here.

Related People

Michael S. Horn

Partner

✉ mhorn@archerlaw.com

☎ 201.498.8529

Dylan R. Newton

Associate

✉ dnewton@archerlaw.com

☎ 201.498.8518

Related Services

- Business Litigation
- Healthcare

Attachments

---

Law360 – Prepping For PFAS Approval Under EPA's New Framework (002)

© 2024 Archer & Greiner, P.C. All rights reserved.

