

Onshore & Offshore Wind

Overview

Our team advises investors, lenders, utilities, sponsors, developers and other industry participants in all facets of onshore and offshore wind transactions. We offer clients a full range of experience and a multidisciplinary approach in financing, tax, environmental, project development and real estate. We help clients navigate all aspects of finance, construction, procurement, leasing and permitting; negotiation of project and off-take agreements; and focus on tax-efficient structures to monetize existing projects and develop new facilities that optimize tax benefits.

We lead clients through large and complex wind projects. Archer provided legal counsel, bid support, land use services, and contracts development and review for an offshore wind developer that was awarded the largest individual contract to develop an offshore wind project by the State of New Jersey. We stay on top of issues that impact our clients, including integration into the electric grid, state and federal legislation, and regulatory and commercial developments such as siting and incentives.

We assist clients with the following:

- Acquisitions and dispositions
- Alternative energy grants and tax credits
- Project development and permitting
- Site control
- Project financing
- Environmental and wildlife
- Grid interconnection
- Power purchase agreements
- Tax equity transactions
