

David Edelstein Appointed to Volunteer UP Legal Clinic Advisory Board

Press Releases

03.04.2024

Archer partner, David F. Edelstein, was recently appointed to the Advisory Board of Volunteer UP Legal Clinic ("Volunteer UP"). A New Jersey Supreme Court certified pro bono organization, Volunteer UP partners with volunteer attorneys to provide high-quality free legal services not otherwise available to those in need. The Advisory Board is comprised of attorneys dedicated to mobilizing their colleagues in the private sector to provide pro bono legal services for critically underserved members of the South Jersey community.

An environmental law attorney, David represents Fortune 100 companies, large multinational corporations, and smaller businesses at several of the largest Superfund sites in the country. David has significant experience representing clients in litigation brought pursuant to the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA), the Clean Water Act (CWA), and comparable state statutes. In addition to his litigation practice, David provides regulatory counsel to clients performing environmental remediation under federal and state law.

David chairs Archer's pro bono practice. In this role, he works closely with partner organizations to identify opportunities for firm attorneys to provide legal support to underserved members of the community. Under David's leadership, the firm provides an expansive scope of pro bono services. In addition to overseeing the firm's pro bono activities, David has his own active pro bono practice that primarily focuses on environmental justice matters.
