Overview

Zara counsels clients in complex securities and business transactional matters, with an emphasis on structured finance. With his strong financing background, Zara has extensive experience in a broad array of transactions, both debt and equity, including public offerings, private placements, institutional lending (on behalf of both lenders and borrowers), venture capital, securities offerings and compliance, tax-exempt municipal bonds, asset securitizations, and sale/leaseback transactions. He represents financial institutions, private equity funds, portfolio companies, startups, and other public and private businesses operating across a wide range of industries.

Clients enjoy working with Zara and appreciate his responsiveness, prompt communications, and tireless work ethic. He has a deep passion for the practice of law and draws on his considerable experience in finance to evaluate his clients' needs from multiple perspectives and helps to guide them by providing comprehensive, practical, and efficient solutions. He strives to ensure that he is always going above and beyond to exceed his clients' expectations.

Before joining Archer, Zara was an associate in the banking and finance practice of an Am Law 50 law firm representing corporations, funds and financial institutions in complex financing transactions.
